A detailed line drawing of a circular water feature. It consists of a large circular basin supported by a series of vertical posts. A large wheel is mounted on the right side of the basin. A channel of water flows from the top of the wheel, around the perimeter of the basin, and back into it. Three numbered circles are used as callouts: '1' points to the top of the wheel, '2' points to the water channel, and '3' points to the base structure of the basin.
